Some Good News!

7 Girls Rescued from Afghanistan!

Dear Friends,

I want to share good news with you. We've kicked into high gear and brought 7 more girls over to the U.S. this past month in advance of a likely travel ban on Afghans.* (It was moved back to March 20th)

The bad news is that the President has issued an executive order to take effect March 20 that will almost certainly result in a ban on travel from Afghans to the US.

We still have 5 more high-achieving excellent English-speaking girls who are ready to come as soon as we have the funds. Schools and host families have opened their doors and are ready to accept them.

News you should know: 2 of these 17-year-old Afghan girl students needed to be moved immediately because members of the Taliban have chosen them to marry. Their families are helpless.

We Got Them Out This Week!!

Because of you, these incredible, determined young women—who dared to dream big—are finding hope and opportunity with U.S. support.

Our dual operations are in full force: rescuing students and helping them thrive in school. With funding streams supporting programs both internationally and here in the U.S., we are ensuring academic success and a smooth transition into new lives.

Now is the time to make a difference. The next month is crucial!

With Gratitude,

Steve and the ASRF Team
